

Years of dealing with drug addiction and the associated mental and physical health issues, has proven to be the most expensive failure that I can think of. Our criminal justice systems have been charged with arresting, housing, and prosecuting these sick individuals, while public health systems are able to address their real needs. Thjs legislation is a start in the right direction. Let's start now!!

Thank you,
Sharon Miller