

Coyote killing contests are a reprehensible and misguided attempt to manage wildlife in a very unsportsmanlike manner. This does nothing to promote our state in a positive way. Science does not support this type of barbarism.