

This is a solution to an ever growing issue in the Pacific Northwest and needs dire attention. The hatcheries and biologists have failed and the decreasing fish population is proof. This measure needs full and immediate attention to sustain multiple ecosystems.