

I support this because I am an actor who has personally benefited by production companies coming to Portland such as Grimm, Leverage, Portlandia. As a recurring character on Grimm I personally spoke to many business people all over the city from food to construction to costumes and props and saw how we all benefit financially and emotionally.