

I strongly support this study and believe that identification of TAG students is an important step in providing quality education to these children.