

I oppose this brutal killing of innocent wildlife. coyotes are predators. domestic dogs are also predators. i am a rural farmer with sheep, goats and chickens. while certain breeds of dogs raised with livestock helps protect them, domestic dogs are more likely to attack livestock than wild predators. dogs have attacked and injured my sheep before we were able to drag them off; and, of course, have killed our chickens. a nearby flock of sheep were all killed by a pack of dogs. would you support a killing contest on dogs? while I do not live in eastern Oregon, we have not heard coyotes in the last few years, probably due to trapping. this must also stop.

I appreciate this effort, jan nelson
