

The amount of benefits returned to a local community from a county fair is incalculable, far beyond just being a revenue stream, it improves the entire social framework for everyone involved in any way. Win-win all around and a proud American tradition.