

Limiting campaign contributions equals reducing corporate and wealthy influence on political candidates. We need this desperately.