

I want as complete a limit on private campaign financing as possible. Public financing should predominate and the limits should be draconian so that corporations and individuals alone or by contributing to groups cannot undermine the equal impact of each individual voter's efforts to influence the election. This bill is the best option