

I am a life time hunter and trapper and am against the killing of coyotes for prizes and or money, the so called contests for killing coyotes is a stain on the outdoorsman who truly understand nature and the balance it plays in controlling its own, the contests do not reduce populations of predators and has turned into an event for gambling and has no effect on populations.