Why are the police so militarized? Why would public safety come from a more militarized law enforcement? When many of our community members simply need food, shelter, medical care, therapy, etc, and when the lack of these resources lead to criminalization and incarceration, why do we need more military equipment? Does law enforcement serve the people, or are they at war with the people?