

HB 3343 should adequately address Oregon's severe inability to reign in political donations and spending. Honest campaigning means presenting a candidate's qualifications, character, and positions on important issues, not on who can finance the heaviest advertising blitz. Campaign funding beyond this basic requirement is all too often thrown into a flood of negative advertising that adds nothing of value while confusing and discouraging many voters . HB 3343 is a reasonable response to Measure 107, and I strongly urge its passage.
