

The dairy industry should not be subsidized. They should comply with the environmental laws that other industries have to comply with. The environment is of utmost importance along with the humane treatment of the animals. There is no reason to support an industry that is harming the environment and the animals. It is definitely time to do things differently.