

I do not support allowing people to kill coyotes for sport. I think coyotes add to the ecosystem and they help regulate the number of skunks, raccoons, foxes etc. that boosts biodiversity. Coyotes kill destructive vegetation eating rodents (which are a high percentage of coyotes diet), which can be helpful to farmlands.

Killing coyotes for sport/reward will add long term ecological damage.

This is simply hunters wanting an excuse to to kill something, it offers no value to anything good. Killing coyotes for sport is a senseless act of killing wildlife. Hunting coyotes competition style for sport should be banned.
