

Hello,

Yes our family has been affected by the current standard of landlords refusing to rent if you have a childcare business out of your home. Years ago I was going to move and every rental stated that a childcare business disqualified me as a renter. I informed them that even tho that was my only income and the children I cared for were my grandchildren it didn't make a difference. Your own business ran out of the home disqualified you as a renter automatically.