

- Timber jobs are the economic backbone of many rural communities.
- A new timber tax will hurt jobs and small businesses already struggling to survive.
- It won't replant and restore our devastated forests.
- It won't restore lost jobs or rebuild communities.
- A new timber tax isn't needed to fund state government