

I was so disappointed when this measure failed to pass the last go-around as I understand it passed the house and had broad support. I think these type of contests are an example of wasting our (the citizens of Oregon) wildlife. Indiscriminate killing of coyotes is contrary to established science. Our wildlife planning should be science based and these contests should be banned.