

I STRONGLY OPPOSE

This is the United States. To have employment options one must have basic English readiness. Effectively disenfranchises non-English speakers from receiving an education through public schools, leaving them unable to have educational and occupational opportunities.