

The people you should be concerned about having guns are the ones who don't obey laws. Those with concealed carry permits have gone through a process that makes it much more likely that they are the good guys that you want around in a crisis situation.

Don't criminalize the good guys!