

City Lights Cinema is a very important asset to the residents of Florence, not only for its entertainment but its past and present contribution to the City. They have always stepped up in the promotion of civic missions. They have received donations from the people to survive the shut down. This infusion of money will help them to continue to operate and provide their continued support to the City and its residents.