

These contests are cruel and unethical and that they serve no useful purpose. Decisions regarding wildlife should be based on science and coyote-killing contests are not that.