

This cinema means something to the people in it. After the last year, and considering the long road ahead, this place matters. For the future health and hope of the community, I believe this theater is deeply valuable - it deserves the support.