

My name is Alexandra Loves and the work I do with people is Ancestral and Spiritual work. It is the work of my bloodline that I am initiated into and it is my duty to share it. This is a human right that should not be regulated by the government. I have been working closely with women for over 10 ten years helping them create their lives and build their self worth and value. I have taught and held countless workshops, classes, healing circles, spoken in summits and interviews, and held personal sessions for many years. I am always clear about the exchange I have with people I work with, ALWAYS. To regulate an exchange of resources for my efforts is oppressive and damaging. This work is God and Spirit given. I will not be regulated in this. Also, will you also regulate the indigenous practitioners and their practices? Is this another things that this country wishes to take away from this group of people? Is it this governments with to regulate the work of Spirit sand Ancestors? There already has been enough damage and stealing by this United States when it comes to Ancestral and Spiritual theft. Please drop this and focus on reparation and giving back to the populations of people who have been most hurt by the ways of this countries culture and government.
