

If the citizens of Oregon pass laws that make the logging industry unprofitable, why would any private landowner continue to grow timber. The land will convert to non-timber / forest uses. In my area hundreds of acres have already converted from forest to vineyards. How much carbon does a vineyard sequester?