

I have assisted thousands of people over the past 23 years breaking through personal barriers that have caused them discomfort in many areas of their lives.

My training has been handed down through the generations as well as my compulsive studies of how to best be in service to humanity.

I reach people at a heart level where all things are possible and I believe to create regulations and licensure would be denying thousands the possibility of healing.

I have attracted many that have gone through the 'system' for years and decades without receiving what they need.

I receive referrals from licensed medical professionals that know that I have a way to reach people that is not accessible through main stream medicine.

I do not use mind alternating medicines (although, know that this can be beneficial in some circumstances) and I believe that the power of healing lies within each person. People need to know that 'they are the medicine' and be held in this way so they can access their inner wisdom....with support, encouragement and modalities that have been around since us humans have inhabited the planet.

Love, acceptance, seeing each other with empathy and compassion and with the belief that each of us deserves to find the type of healing that we personally need in each circumstance.

As the saying goes, 'it takes a village'.

Once government removes the people from 'the village', everything becomes fragmented.
