

These medicines and modalities saved my life. I was so impressed with the results that I became a reiki, sound, and shamanic healer so I can help other. If you know anything about quantum physics, you know we are energy. Humans are energy. When we use energy to heal naturally, it is healthy and natural without risk of addiction or ridiculous costs. These practices have been around the world for centuries. Do your homework please! Do not deny people this crucial support in their mental and physical health. All you are doing is driving costs higher as these patients will turn to unnatural means which cost a fortune.
