

I am a licensed MD and Eden Energy Medicine practitioner (Eden Method). I took a 4 year training course with Eden Method and I participate in Continuing Education every 2 years to maintain my certification with the Eden Method. The training and recertification requirements are rigorous and are designed to instill knowledge, skill and confidence in the practitioner. The Eden Energy Medicine credential is recognized in Energy Medicine and allopathic medicine as a significant professional accomplishment. Eden Energy Medicine is dedicated to ensuring that their graduates are ethical and professional practitioners. Eden Energy Medicine practitioners should not be included in HB 2493.
