

I don't know how many of you have ever had Reiki, my granddaughter died in 2019 from cancer. During her hospital stay she had reiki performed on her. This is non invasive, it just works with energy and it helped her relax during her infusions. If you people mess with these people who are helping sick people during the scariest part of their lives you are Taking away an amazing thing. What is wrong with you people? Your so greedy you have to tax everything. You should be ashamed
