

This is a bad bill. We don't need wider freeways, we need the Oregon Department of Transportation to consider the best way to move goods and people in the face of the climate crisis. I keep on hoping the human race will start to act, because its obvious that the climate is not waiting.