

I am a chronic pain patient who has dealt with a number of medical issues , including , but not limited to autoimmune disorders for many years . Without the aid of alternative treatments , along with traditional ones ..I would not be able to control those issues to the best of my ability , making it next to impossible to function at the level at which I do . Although its far from the normal range for most .. its a godsend to me !