

We are removing the responsibility of the individual to provide for their own needs. Many have jobs that provide benefits for this reason. Instead of amending the constitution to require the state to be responsible for people, we should remind adults it's time to be adults. We can figure out how to accomplish things without amending the constitution.