

This increases divisiveness, not decreases it. You cannot legislate people into treating each other with respect, you have to demonstrate it.