

I am totally opposed to this, there is plenty of time for a person to register months before the voting date,