

Years ago, while in college in California, I regularly washed dishes at a restaurant called Zanze's Rocky Falls, which was located on Highway 17 between (what is now called) Scott's Valley and Santa Cruz. I often worked until midnight or after. But working there plus other odd jobs I was able to complete my first year of college debt free. Any kind of job is better than no job. Work of any legitimate kind builds character and causes the student to appreciate the work which goes into earning a place in society where one's life can be a blessing to many others. Later I graduated from SOU Ashland with only an SDEA loan of $850, which I was able to pay off within about 4 years by teaching in elementary schools in Sabillasvile, Maryland and Reedsport, and Lookingglass, Oregon.
