

Oh yes please! One way to increase affordability is to allow more unit and more people to live close to wonderful transportation options. This is a way of forcing the issue, without NIMBY folks fighting block-by-block to keep areas near transit stop full of large 1-family homes.