

One universal electronic medical system allows for necessary communication and allows for medical professionals to have all the information they need to provide good care to their patients. As an Oregonian I want to have the best medical care possible and this is a step towards that.