It is clear from the State's own data that this pandemic is fizzling out, and never got as exciting as anyone claimed it would. Oregon Health Authority only needed a 3 year average to demonstrate how much more deadly covid's been year over year. Something that some of us never would have guessed, considering for months suicides met and exceeded covid deaths. Good job, guys.

Not once were we reminded about nutrition, vit. D and sun but quite brilliantly, rather, remanding healthy people at home and eliminating access to public lands and alternative therapies that Doctors around the world were finding effective prophylactics; or studies that as recently as 2005 showed Chloroquine a "potent inhibitor of SARS coronavirus", now a well-known conspiracy theory, that is if you believe the NIH - it was their study.

But I digress; the only excitement really has been the impeccable stupidity of multiple face-masks and face-shields to protect others from microscopic nano-particles and the belligerent use of good old fashioned American censorship.

Couldn't have any competing views or opinions, professional or otherwise, could we? Like those fools that signed the Great Barrington Declaration.

Fortunately the WHO has lowered the required cycles for the PCR test to help reduce false positives, just in time! Watch the cases drop! Fizzle, Pop!

Let's get the state back online. Anything else is cruel.
