

DOGAMI is a necessary agency. They provide invaluable services and necessary geologic information that we DEPEND on to keep our state safe! If you eliminate DOGAMI, vital information that geologists rely on will be less accessible and could create a very negative ripple effect! As an engineer and an earth scientist working for a private consulting firm, I know first hand how impactful this agency is. DOGAMI is already a small agency, but their work is hugely important as they provide data on evacuation routing, landslide mapping, earthquake risk analysis, groundwater mapping, radon research, flood mapping, and coastal erosion. Oregon is in a VERY geologically active region and the safest of our communities will be greatly hindered if you eliminate DOGAMI. Please consider the negative impact this will have across the state and save this agency!
