

I would like to voice support for legalizing natural organic reduction/human composting. From what I have read it seems to be a viable, eco-friendly alternative to our current use of burial and cremation. If Washington has had no problems with it, then please allow it.