

Thank you for your decision to preserve DOGAMI and find a permanent funding source. It is SO important that we have an independent scientific agency advising our policy makers. However, it is vitally important that we find a permanent funding source. The millions we spend today on DOGAMI will save us billions when the next disaster strikes.