

I'm a 68 year old motorcycle user, mostly recreational. I have been in California a few times and saw how easily the single motorcycle users blended and filtered through otherwise dead-locked traffic on the crowded freeways. Seemed like everybody there understood that they were "part of the solution" not "part of the problem". It took minutes to get used to, then became a natural order of things. It can work, really !

Thank you Mark J. Regan Boring, Oregon