Re: I OPPOSE [HB 3047] and [HB 3273]...Both are incomplete and require extensive amendments.

In re [HB 3047];

The internet has become weaponized by Technology companies without regard to what is published on their respective platforms.

The extent of harm done to innocent people and their families is significant and growing unabated.

There are problems with [HB 3047] which I find objectionable.

[HB 3047] does nothing to address those individuals and or groups who enter neighborhoods to cause all sorts of mayhem and injuries to the neighborhoods in toto. Many people and properties are victimized and vandalized by malicious conduct perpetrated by the "cancel culture."

In short, [HB 3047] doesn't go far enough in its' construction to punish and deter the offensive and injurious conduct.

Legislation that is "half-baked" is certainly not legislation that is "well done."

It is imperative to construct legislation to protect everyone especially, public employees and elected persons.

In re [HB 3273];

Is so poorly constructed as to defy polite description.

Whereas, "Booking photographs" are public records (as additional private information)-can lead to solving crimes. On the other hand, if a person is arrested and is set free, the "Booking photograph" can and does attach unwarranted stigmas upon innocent people.

Legislation should be constructed to severely punish websites that post "Booking photographs" and then "blackmails" an innocent and or acquitted person to remove the "Booking photographs" for a "fee" from the internet.

The website which posts a "Booking photographs" should also be precluded from even posting said photographs with the exception of guilty persons.

***It is of interest to note...the alleged journalist igniting several Testimonies in both [HB 3047] and [HB 3273] is also a victim of vicious physical attacks and has relocated to an undisclosed location for safety reasons.

Where is the outrage to address reciprocal mistreatment?

Is there equivalent legislation pending such as, [HB you're out of luck]?

Respectfully submitted,
