

Being able to legally share lanes would help protect motorcycles from a rear end collision in a sudden traffic stop situation.