BACKGROUND:

In 2021, the Oregon House of Representatives passed House Resolution 6 declaring racism as a public health crisis in the state. The resolution found that “incidents of racism consistently experienced by Black and indigenous communities, people of color and tribes create racial disparities in social, health, economic, legal and academic outcomes.” HR 6 further found that “racial justice requires the formation and purposeful reinforcement of policies, practices, ideologies and behaviors that create equitable power, access, opportunity, treatment and outcomes for all people regardless of race and redistribute resources to invest where inequities are greatest.”

House Bill 4052 requires Oregon Health Authority to administer a pilot program to provide grants to establish culturally and linguistically specific mobile health units to serve priority populations. The measure also requires OHA and the Oregon Advocacy Commissions Office to report to the legislature on recommendations for funding programs to address health inequities experienced by Black and indigenous communities, people of color, and members of tribes; requires OHA to administer a pilot program to provide grants to establish culturally and linguistically specific mobile health units to serve priority populations.
