Duties and Authority

The commission works for the implementation and establishment of economic, social, legal, and political equality for women and maintains a continuing assessment of the issues and needs confronting women in Oregon.<sup>5</sup> The commission must:<sup>6</sup>

- submit to the Governor at the commencement of each biennium a report containing the concerns and issues confronting the women of Oregon and further identifying the programs, projects, and activities which the commission will undertake regarding those issues;
- analyze the legal status of women and men under the laws of Oregon relating to civil rights, contracts, income, property, and the family in order to assure full equality and treatment under the law;
- monitor the implementation of laws affecting the legal rights and duties of women;
- educate women about their legal rights and responsibilities under the law;
- work for equal opportunity and treatment for women in employment through an analysis of the employment policies and practices of employers, both public and private;
- evaluate the development of methods to assure fuller employment options for women including nontraditional job opportunities, child care, job sharing, and flextime and part-time employment;
- examine methods to develop greater employment opportunities and potentials for women with particular consideration for the needs of minority women, older women, rural women, and displaced homemakers;
- evaluate the progress of providing equality of educational opportunities for women in Oregon as mandated by state and federal law;
- assist efforts to inform women about nontraditional educational and employment opportunities;
- promote the elimination of sexist and racist barriers in the educational process, such as staffing patterns, teacher training, curriculum, and textbook selection;
- encourage women to pursue a variety of roles in life, both in the community and in the family;
- promote the full recognition of the contributions of women whether in the home, as volunteers in the community, or in the labor market;
- promote the valuation of work within the home at a level comparable with work outside the home;
- investigate family relationships which are detrimental to women and to the development of productive family life;
- encourage and recommend women to serve on appointive boards and commissions and encourage them to seek elective office;
- identify and address issues which may be unique to special categories of women including minority women, juvenile women, older women, rural women, and displaced homemakers; and
