Measure: SB1510

Every Oregonian deserves to feel safe and be treated with dignity. Unnecessary interactions between law enforcement and BIPOC Oregonians increase risks of excessive force and violence in our communities. By changing how traffic stops are made, we can limit unnecessary traffic stops and make our communities safer. Also we can and must improve success for people on probation and parole with a rulemaking process that can prevent, in some instances, parole and probation officers from visiting the people they supervise at work. By eliminating unnecessary barriers for people on parole and probation, we can build on people's strengths and promote stable homes, families, and economies.
