Measure: HB4011

My mother is mentally ill. I have grown up for 50 years in the shadows, watched how the system has broken down and things legislated to make it better have done the opposite. The mental health system is broken and no longer functioning. Nothing short of a complete overhaul will make it better. Throwing away more money will do nothing but pad more people's pockets because of others' misfortune. Stop spending money on what isn't working and really bring family, providers, and those who are ill and competent to the table to figure out how best to overhaul the system first. No more money spent on things that are bandaids. We the people demand that our money be spent wisely.
