Measure: SB1589

I oppose Senate bill 1589. Proper scientific studies need to be taken place on the circumstances that brought this bill to the attention of the Oregon state legislature. Studies in subjects such as the receding banks and fish and wildlife population need to be taken to into account. Fish population is currently stable and the river rises almost 20 to 35 feet in some areas during the winter and picks up 5 times the speed it averages during the summer. Receding banks are likely due to winter conditions not wake boats. Among the baiting community also comes an industry that supports local Oregonians jobs and passion. You will be severely damaging local business and the peoples lively holds that you swore to hold the best interest of.
