BACKGROUND:

The U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) collects workforce data from employers with more than 100 employees (lower thresholds apply to federal contractors). Employers meeting the reporting thresholds have a legal obligation to provide the data. EEOC collect data about gender and race/ethnicity by some type of job grouping and is used for a variety of purposes including enforcement, self-assessment by employers, and research. This information is shared with other authorized federal agencies in order to avoid duplicate collection of data and reduce the burden placed on employers. Although the data is confidential, aggregated data is available to the public.

House Bill 2921 requires hospitals to file report that is required by the EEOC or United States Department of Education showing demographics of hospitals' workforces by race, ethnicity, sex, and job categories, with Commissioner of the Bureau of Labor and Industries (BOLI) for posting to its website.
