BACKGROUND:

Breast cancer is diagnosed using a breast exam, mammogram, breast ultrasound, breast magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) or removing a sample of breast cells for testing (biopsy). According to the Kaiser Family Foundation breast cancer is the most diagnosed cancer and the second leading cause of cancer death. In 2016, an estimated 3.5 million women in the U.S. were living with breast cancer. In Oregon in 2019 there were 3,725 women who reported cases a breast cancer diagnosis according to the Centers for Disease Control (CDC).

The Affordable Care Act (ACA) and many state laws have provisions that assure that most women with health benefit plans have coverage of diagnostic breast examinations. Health benefits plans may require enrollees to pay deductibles or co-payments for covered services.

Senate Bill 1041 prohibits health benefit plans from imposing a deductible, coinsurance, co-payment, or other out of pocket expense for a medically necessary diagnostic or supplemental breast examination.
